Course Description: The purpose of the AP course in Human Geography is to introduce students to the systematic study of patterns and processes that have shaped human understanding, use, and alteration of Earth's surface. Students employ spatial concepts and landscape analysis to examine human social organization and its environmental consequences. They also learn about the methods and tools geographers use in their science and practice. Some units of study include:

- Population, culture, language, religion, ethnicity, political geography, etc.

Course and Homework Requirements:

Please note that students in an AP course are expected to be highly motivated. Dedication to learning the material and mastering the methods necessary to pass an AP exam is required. There is no room for poor scholarship or citizenship. It is expected that you will take responsibility for your own education.

Summer Requirements (if any): Read chapter 1
